

U. S. Air Force Orders Secret B-58 Bomber

By VERN HAUGLAND
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has ordered "initial production" of its first faster-than-sound bomber—and possibly the world's first—the Convair B-58.

Some experts say the B-58, a medium-weight successor to the medium Boeing B-47 and the heavy B-52, may be the last of the piloted bombers before long-range strategy turns to the intercontinental guided missile.

The first B-58 is still under construction in a closely guarded section of the mile long Convair hangar at Fort Worth, Tex., where the giant B-36 heavy bomber was produced. B-36 production ended there last summer.

In disclosing its B-58 order Wednesday, the Air Force also announced an initial production order for the Lockheed F104 lightweight fighter, which has flown faster than 1,000 miles an hour. Lockheed said an undisclosed number are already being assembled at its Burbank, Calif., plant.

Details of the B-58 are still a military secret. The plane is said to have a delta-shaped wing and four jet engines.

Rainfall Worries Flood Fighters At Hammond, Ind.

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—A forecast of showers today worried flood-fighters and 4,000 homeless persons in this Calumet area and at Plymouth, 70 miles east.

The flooded Little Calumet River here and the Yellow River at Plymouth dropped slowly, but more rain could send them over residential areas again.

Hammond's Mayor Vernon Anderson called the Red Cross back to active alert status Wednesday night and alerted all police and firemen.

Damage estimates in this area also ranged as high as 10 million dollars. There were reports that home owners were stealing sandbags from dikes to protect their own property.

Uranium Hunting Big Business In Western States

By EARLE L. JESTER
SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A rush which at times has brought memories of the California gold rush of a hundred years ago has scattered uranium claims across Utah and other Western states.

It has been marked by feverish searching for the A-bomb metal, with a modern Geiger counter replacing the old-time pan; by a surge of stock sales that took an estimated 14 million dollars from hopeful get-rich-quick speculators.

And Milton H. Love, director of the State Securities Commission, says he is confident that a permanent, well-established uranium industry will result.

One In A Thousand
Love provides the estimate of 14 million dollars in stock sales. He predicts that 20 per cent—one in five—of the companies which have sold stock will prove profitable. But he emphasizes that it is still too early to speculate on their probable profit, with most still engaged in exploration and development work only.

There are no accurate figures as to the number of prospectors. The Atomic Energy Commission says the peak came in the spring and early summer when literally thousands tramped the area in search of a strike.

The AEC exploration office here says it still is receiving up to 300 inquiries a month from persons wanting to try their hand at prospecting.

What are their chances of hitting? There is no sure answer. One AEC official said, "Maybe one in a thousand."

Stock Sales Boom
Lure for the prospectors is a $10,000 bonus offer. The AEC says it will pay that amount to anyone discovering and developing a mine producing 20 tons of ore of 20 per cent uranium content.

So far no one has earned that bonus.

But the AEC, which at present is the only legal purchaser of uranium ore, says that ore of as little as two tenths of 1 per cent uranium can return the producer a profit. Payment for the ore is based on the uranium content.

The stock sale surge came in early summer. Brokerage offices at times had to lock their doors to control the flood of prospective customers. Stock issues often were oversubscribed before certificates were issued. Sales boomed to as high as three to five million shares per day.

Now brokers say volume is a third to a half the average of the early summer boom. Much of the buying now is by mail, particularly from residents living in the East and Southwest.

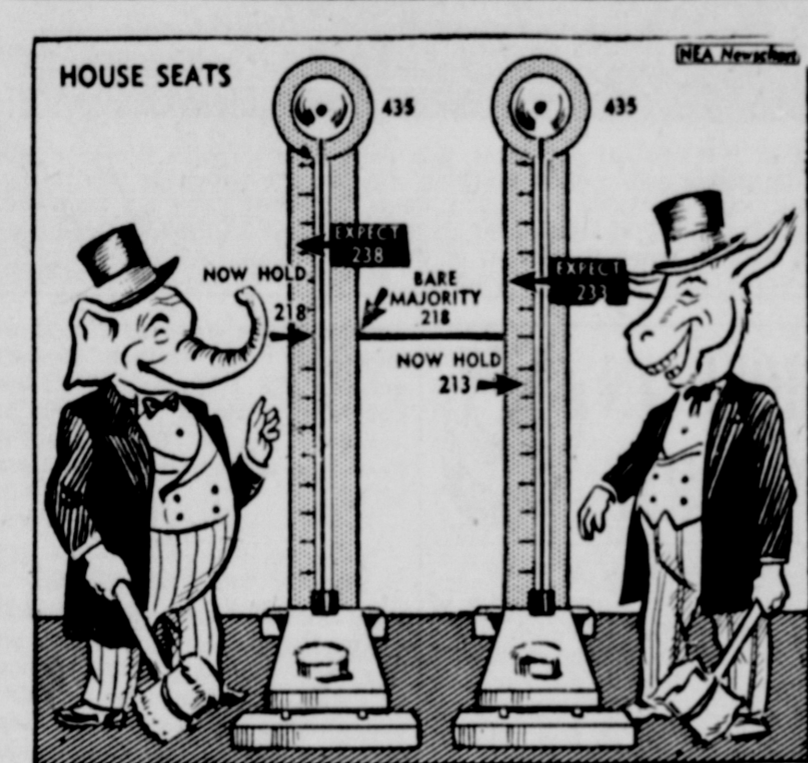

Beaver Island Wants New Passenger Boat

CHARLEVOIX (AP)—The Beaver Island Transit Co.'s board of directors will meet this week to discuss purchase of a new passenger boat for service on the Beaver Island run next year. The island has been without regular boat service to the mainland since Oct. 4 when the Coast Guard refused a certificate for the steamer SS. North Shore. A freighter and a fishing vessel have been serving the island.

Police Chief Kills Bear On Soo Street

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Police Chief J. Willard Welsh shot and killed a bear Wednesday night after the animal invaded the city limits. The 205-pound bear was first sighted in the western part of the city. Welsh killed it with a single rifle shot. He said the animal was fat and apparently not hungry enough to have attacked humans.

Hurricane Ravages Haiti; Churns Toward Carolinas

MUSCLE FLEXING EXERCISE—Democratic donkey and Republican elephant line up at the strength barometer to see how many House seats each will get in the coming November election. The optimistic elephant now holds 218 of the 435 House seats. The donkey now holds 213 seats, also expects to pick up 20 seats, giving it a total of 233. The present number of House seats doesn't add up to 435 on the chart because there is one independent and three vacancies.

Secretary Wilson Sorry That He Mentioned Dogs

By BERNARD GAVZER
CHICAGO (AP)—Defense Secretary Wilson says he's sorry for making "inept remarks" about dogs while talking about jobless workers.

But, he said, his remarks were "distorted by our left-wing opponents."

"I admit that I made a mistake—an unfortunate mistake—bringing up those bird dogs at the same time I was talking about people," Wilson told a $100-a-plate Republican party fund raising dinner Wednesday night.

Receives Ovation
The 1,500 persons at the dinner gave the former General Motors executive an ovation when he was introduced and praised by Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois for his work in running the Defense Department. Wilson was applauded 36 times during his speech and received another ovation when he finished.

Earlier Wednesday Stratton, Illinois No. 1 Republican, had suggested that Wilson's Chicago speech be canceled because of Wilson's allusion to dogs during a discussion of unemployment at a news conference in Detroit Monday.

Wilson said his remarks at Detroit were "picked up and exaggerated all out of proportion" by the Democrats, who nearing the November election, are engaged in "a campaign of desperation, of deliberate misrepresentation, of hitting below the belt."

Near the outset of his speech, Wilson told the Republicans: "I'll match my labor record with anyone in this nation—and that goes for partisan politicians, labor leaders or anyone else."

Stratton Switches
Wilson's offhand reference to bird dogs and kennel dogs in talking about unemployment had brought a storm of protests from labor leaders and political figures of both major parties.

In Detroit he had said: "And I've got a lot of sympathy for people where a sudden change catches 'em—but I've always liked bird dogs better than kennel dogs. You know, one who'll get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his fanny and yell."

President Eisenhower has defended his Cabinet member, saying he had never known Wilson to be "in the slightest degree indifferent to human misfortune."

The governor, asked later about reversing his attitude, denied there was any intervention by the President.

Royal Oak Builder Found Innocent Of Alleged FHA Fraud

DETROIT (AP)—Fred B. Collier, a Royal Oak township builder and attorney, was acquitted of alleged fraud of the FHA Wednesday in a 1½-million-dollar loan.

A Federal Court jury which deliberated seven and a half hours found Collier innocent. It held the government failed to prove its case.

The government had accused Collier of making false financial statements in obtaining the loan to build a housing cooperative in

Russia Puts OK On Trieste Pact

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Russians surprised the West again Wednesday night by giving an approving nod to the Western-sponsored Trieste settlement. The Soviets had been expected to blast the agreement.

Soviet recognition of the Oct. 5 London Accord dividing the Trieste territory between Italy and Yugoslavia was conveyed in a letter from Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky to the 11-member Security Council.

The Russian acquiescence apparently was part of the Kremlin drive to better relations with Yugoslavia's independent Communist regime.

United States Rushes Aid To Stricken Island

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Hazel, resurgent in strength and moving at a faster pace, churned the Atlantic in the direction of the Carolinas today, while the U. S. Navy began relief operations in the storm-stricken Caribbean island Republic of Haiti.

First reports from the U. S. aircraft carrier Saipan, whose helicopters were landing doctors and medical supplies at the ravaged town of Jeremie, indicated the loss of life in Haiti's hard-hit southwest peninsula might be much lighter than was first feared.

City Half Destroyed

The Saipan message that hurricane Hazel had destroyed 50 per cent of Jeremie, a town of 11,000 but "there are no signs of dead people."

Scores of villages and thickly populated rural areas were still to be heard from, however.

A doctor and interpreter who landed by airplane at Jeremie this morning sent back word that no deaths or injuries were reported in the vicinity of Jeremie. The town's hospital was reported damaged but was still functioning with adequate supplies.

Capt. George Holly, naval public information officer at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, told The Associated Press by telephone that six helicopter sorties had been flown from the Saipan to the Jeremie area.

Winds Regain Speed

Meanwhile hurricane Hazel, which Wednesday night veered to a north-northwest course which might threaten the American mainland, passed through the outer Bahama Islands 360 miles east of Miami. The strength it lost in its land passage over Haiti had been regenerated and latest reports showed its top winds were back at an estimated 115 miles an hour. The big storm's forward movement had stepped up to 17 miles an hour and it was more than 500 miles from the Carolina coast.

The massive storm's top winds have built up to 130 miles an hour, and its forward movement in a north-northwest direction, increased to 23 miles an hour.

Northeast storm warnings were ordered up from the Virginia capes to Charleston, S.C.

The bureau said the hurricane was about 300 miles east of West Palm Beach, Fla., at 10 a.m. (CST).

Pork Barrel Tactics Charged In Lansing TB Hospital Issue

LANSING (AP)—The state Legislature was scored today for "pork barrel" tactics in the use of hospital bond issue money to provide more beds for tuberculosis patients.

The Citizens Research Council of Michigan, a private agency, issued a scathing report of a study of the spending of the money since it became available in 1951.

"Money voted by the people of Michigan," the report said, "was spent to provide more tuberculosis beds than necessary in the wrong locations, at a cost 60 per cent greater than was commonly understood to have been authorized."

In 1950 the people voted for a 65 million dollar bond issue, with the understanding that five million dollars would be allocated for tuberculosis hospitals. The balance was to be used for increasing the capacity of state mental hospitals.

The report said that only $300,000 of the five million was allocated to southeastern Michigan, the only area with a legitimate need.

To rectify this, the report said, the Legislature broke faith with the people later and "borrowed" $3,300,000 from the mental hospital fund to expand TB facilities in the area surrounding Detroit.

The report said the total expenditure of bond issue money, designed originally to provide 1,000 new TB beds, actually resulted in a net gain of only 603 beds.

It also found that some 1,100 TB hospital beds are vacant in the state, because "more beds have been provided in some areas of the state than are needed for existing

Strangler Asks Death Penalty

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 28-year-old World War II hero, who had pleaded guilty to murder of his half-sister, asked a panel of judges for mercy Wednesday — "the mercy of oblivion."

Andre L. Paschedag stood before the three-member panel in Quarter Sessions Court and said that "against the advice" of his counsel "I would like to ask for mercy. That is the mercy of oblivion, by awarding the death penalty. That is the only thing."

But Judge Peter F. Hagan leaned forward and told the defendant:

"You will be confined to the Eastern State Penitentiary for the rest of your life."

The defendant, who received the Bronze Star in World War II, was tried by the three-man court as required by state law since he had pleaded guilty to the April 8 strangulation of Sonia Niehorster, 22. In the one-day trial he offered no defense nor explanation of the crime.

Scuffle Drowns Boy In Chicago River

CHICAGO (AP)—The body of a 9-year-old boy missing since Saturday was found Wednesday in the Chicago River, into which he had fallen after a scuffle with another boy.

Police said Keith Holdenbauer, 10, told them Thomas Grochowski, fell into the river in a playful scuffle on the bank. They said young Holdenbauer said he had not disclosed the tragedy earlier because his parents had warned him not to play by the river.

Keith is being held for further investigation by juvenile authorities.

Leonard Shakes Hands In Mines And Factories

(By The Associated Press)
Republican Donald S. Leonard, visiting northern Michigan's iron ore country Wednesday, took to his own the homely style of hand-shake campaigning associated with his Democratic rival, Gov. Williams.

In a three and a half hour visit to Negaunee, a Democratic stronghold, and in Marquette, Leonard met with 600 miners in a series of factory and mine visits, shaking hands by the scores.

At one plant, where he had to shout his name above shrieking wood lathes, a worker accosted him to say "I'm a Williams man. See, I've got one of his buttons."

"That's all right," Leonard laughed. He reached into a pocket, pulled out a pin of his own, and stuck it in the worker's shirt.

Only Hours Apart
Meanwhile Williams and Patrick V. McNamara, Democratic candidate for the senate against incumbent Sen. Homer Ferguson, toured the same area for votes in the Nov. 2 showdown. Williams and Leonard were only hours apart at Marquette.

In a speech Williams referred to Leonard's campaign accusations that the governor has impeded legislative progress at Lansing.

Williams listed what he called his achievements for Michigan hospitals.

"If he (Leonard) had been following the proper information," Williams said, "he would see that what he calls a stalemate would not have built the new tuberculosis sanatorium in Houghton, St. Joseph Hospital in Hancock, and similar hospital facilities in 48 other Michigan communities."

The governor again rapped Republican State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. He Indicted Racketeers Rush Guilty Pleas In Phenix City, Ala.

By REX THOMAS
PHENIX CITY, Ala. (AP)—Phenix City racketeers have started bargaining for negotiated prison terms rather than face trial before vice cleanup juries which have yet to acquit a defendant.

Seven indicted gamblers, including retired slot machine king Hoyt Shepherd and Jimmy Matthews, pleaded guilty Wednesday and drew penalties ranging from two months in prison and a $300 to 30 months imprisonment.

Others still awaiting trial were reported to have sounded out state prosecutors for possible settlements today, including perhaps Godwin Davis Sr. and his tough-guy son Godwin Jr., who once masterminded a $15,000-a-day lottery syndicate.

Jurors Vote For Death
The panic took seed a week ago after gambler E. L. Cook, who had gone unprosecuted for more than three years, was given life imprisonment for murder. Eleven of the 12 jurors reportedly voted for the death penalty on the first ballot.

Wednesday, the negotiations quickly gained momentum.

Lone Raftsmen Nearing Samoa

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP)—The balsa raft "Seven Little Sisters," on which 61-year-old William Willis set out from Peru last June 22 with a parrot and a cat, was reported sighted Wednesday 20 miles off Pago Pago.

The governor of Samoa said he and a party would go out on the Manua, a telecommunications ship, and tow Willis to port, ending an odyssey of drifting on currents used by six Scandinavians on the raft Kon-Tiki seven years ago.

When Willis bade goodbye to his wife Bess at Callao, Peru, and set forth on the Humboldt Current in his 35-foot, twin-masted craft, he said he expected his ocean wanderings to cover around 11,000 miles in eight months. His purpose: "to show that a lone man can conquer the ocean."

He made the journey in less than four months, presumably by shortening the course. He had steering apparatus on the raft.

In New York City Wednesday night, his wife, informed of the sighting of the raft, exclaimed:

"I'm so very happy. All I care about is that everything is well."

Willis carried wild Peruvian corn, brown sugar, some emergency rations and a water tank. For shelter, he had a small cabin.

Safecracker John Benefield, who has spent 18 of his 44 years under prison sentences and who has been tagged by the National Guard as a "professor of burglary" teaching others his trade, was convicted of possessing burglary tools.

He was fined $100 and sentenced to 12 months, the maximum imprisonment under Alabama law for that offense.

Twenty-four hours earlier, gambler H. C. Harden Jr. entered the first guilty plea of the vice trials and drew a $300 fine and a nine-month prison term.

At Mercy of Court
Harden's abrupt withdrawal of his plea of innocent came after defense attorneys had failed in repeated attempts to get a new jury list for the antiracket trials or get them postponed or transferred to another county.

Two more pleas of guilty came while the Benefield jury was deliberating. J. B. Chancellor admitted guilt in two gambling indictments and put himself at the mercy of the court. His sentencing was delayed until Nov. 22.

Then came honky-tonk operator C. W. Franklin with a plea of guilty on two charges of lottery operation and one indictment charging possession of gambling equipment. He was sentenced to 2½ years and fined $25. Twenty-three remaining lottery counts were dismissed by agreement.

Franklin, ironically, was foreman of a grand jury last spring which reported no evidence of gambling in wide-open Phenix City.

The climax in the rush to plead guilty came when the reputedly wealthy Shepherd and Matthews tossed in the sponge. They pleaded guilty on two charges of leasing property for gambling and each defendant drew a 90-day prison sentence and $1,000 fine.

Three other pleas of guilty followed in succession.

Bloodhounds Round Up Alabama Escapers

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Three convicts trying to escape from a work detail ran smack into the Kilby Prison dog trainer, who had his bloodhounds out searching for a prisoner who made off in a previous break.

Clyde Carpenter and his bloodhounds had been hunting for a Negro who escaped Tuesday when a radio alarm went out for three white convicts who had just taken off in a state truck from a work detail.

A few minutes later, Carpenter spotted the stolen truck and gave chase in his truck. The convicts abandoned their vehicle, and Carpenter soon rounded all three up with his bloodhounds.

More Showers Hit Escanaba

A wave of cold air broke out of Canada yesterday pushing temperatures down and driving a series of local showers before it. It brought the unwelcome rain to Escanaba about two days sooner than it was expected.

Nearly 3/4 of an inch of rain was dumped on the Escanaba area in the past 24 hours. For the past two weeks Escanaba has been getting heavier rains than any of the other areas in the Upper Peninsula but today Marquette has the dubious honor of getting wetter than Escanaba.

Freezing temperatures swept across Montana, Wyoming, Idaho and parts of Utah, Nevada, Oregon and Washington. There will be colder temperatures at Escanaba this weekend but no general freeze is indicated.

The mercury may creep up to 50 on Friday but will drop to the 30's on Saturday morning. Accompanying the cold will be heavy winds.

More October heat records are being shattered in the southeastern states while the western half of the nation shovels more coal. The temperatures over the nation range from a chilly 10 degrees at Big Piney, Wyo. to a scorching 100 at Childress, Texas.

North Carolina may be in store for an unwanted visit from Hurricane Hazel. Moving faster and picking up force, the destructive lady, is traveling north at a rate of 17 miles an hour.

Character Building Girl Scout Program Financed By The Community Chest

The Delta County Girl Scout Council is one of six health, welfare and character-building agencies participating in the Delta County Community Chest. A budget portion of the funds procured in the current campaign will be used to finance the work of the Girl Scouts throughout the county in 1955.

Other agencies participating are the Michigan Children's Aid, Cod Liver Oil Fund, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts of America and the Campfire Girls. All funds are used in Delta County.

The first girl scout council in Delta County was organized June 25, 1924, with backing from an industrial recreation program, local records reveal. It remained active for about 10 years but lapsed then until 1945 when it was reorganized under the leadership of Mrs. H. W. Rheade.

It is interesting to note that Nahma is the only community in the county which has had a Girl Scout organization continually from 1924 to the present. It continued on an independent basis when Girl Scouting lapsed elsewhere in the county from 1935 to 1945.

Boy, 10, Uses Gun To Save His Dog

MONROE, La. (AP)—Ten-year-old Joe Cooper told Wednesday how he threatened two school officials with a loaded shotgun when they refused to release his unvaccinated dog.

The sixth-grader was committed to the Louisiana Training Institute, a home for delinquent boys, after the incident last week. A wave of public sentiment for the boy prompted another hearing for him on Friday afternoon.

"Me and my boy friend went to school and when we got there my dog Tippi was running around the playground," the boy told a reporter. "Two little girls came over and told me somebody was going to give my dog to the dog catcher."

Joe said he went home for a shotgun, returned and demanded the release of his dog, but the principal, Mrs. Tiny Clark, refused. M. C. Griggs, the truant officer, also refused.

"And then the police came and I put the gun down and gave the gun to the police officer," Joe continued. "Then the police officer started to carry me out the door and Mr. Griggs grabbed my hand. He said he'd help, that I might run away."

"They took me to the police station. I guess that's about all. I guess I was excited about being going to give the dog to the dog catcher."

The boy, who said the dog was "the only thing I own," is the son of a widow whose only income was reported to be a $55 monthly state assistance check. A Monroe business man has paid to have the dog vaccinated and kept for Joe.

Former Gladstone Resident Dies

"The purpose of the Girl Scout movement," local leaders point out, "is to provide girls with the training, education and experiences that will help them become active and worthwhile citizens. In preparing them for useful lives in the future, the Girl Scout organization also enables them to live more abundantly in the present. It serves to raise standards throughout the county."

There are 25 troops in Delta County, 11 each in Gladstone and Escanaba, two in Nahma and one in Garden, with more than 450 girls participating. At least 13 other troops could become active in the county if adult leaders were procured.

Sponsors include men's service clubs, PTA units, church units and a yacht club. Eighty-one adults serve in the county, but more help is urgently needed, it was emphasized.

Organization in the county follows:

- 5 Brownie troops. Age range 7-10.
- 17 Intermediate troops. Age range 10-14.
- 3 Senior Scout troops. Age range 14-18.

All adults in organization are volunteers. The only paid worker is the office secretary at the Franklin School open three afternoons a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday from one to four.

Three forms of camping are offered Girl Scouts. Bunker Hill Day Camp for Brownies and younger intermediates is at Gladstone, operated under full staff for two weeks each summer. The staff includes director, unit leaders, assistant unit leaders, nurse, camp aides and camp buyer.

At Day Camp the girls plan and prepare a noon meal each day. Another form of camping provided is Troop Camping for Intermediates at Wells State Park Camp. This camp is in session four days and three night, during the month of June. Then established camping at Timber Trail on Federal Highway 13, near Munising, for older intermediates and Senior Scouts.

Troops earn own "spending" money for various functions, such as a party at end of school year, for annual membership dues of $1.00 at National Headquarters in New York City, for Proficiency Badges earned, for food consumed on a hike or skating party, through their three authorized sales during school year. Probably the most successful sale of year is the peanut sale which will be under way within a week. Next is the calendar sale in December, then in the spring around Easter time it is the cookie sale. For each calendar sold, each can of peanuts and each box of cookies, girls make a small profit for the troop treasury.

Each month, all leaders and other registered adults receive the "Leader" magazine from National Headquarters, which is full of ideas and suggestions and success stories from other councils in the U. S.

An efficient Training Program is offered all leaders. The prime requisite it to have a definite interest in the girls themselves, it was reported. A leader will learn along with the girls at her weekly meetings. Complete kits are furnished each leader, and training is offered whenever and wherever most needed. The local training chairman is Mrs. Theodore Goetz of Gladstone.

Orpheus To Present 'Messiah' On Dec. 7

Mrs. M. H. Garrard Jr., director of the Delta County Orpheus Choral Club announces that the club now has a membership of 89. The group has been rehearsing Handel's famous oratorio "The Messiah" since early fall and will present it Dec. 7 under the sponsorship of the Escanaba Women's Club and assisted by the Escanaba String Ensemble.

During the rehearsal last Tuesday, Mrs. Garrard called upon Mrs. C. Hartbarger, who has made a study of "The Messiah", to give the Orpheus Choral Club the background which led to the great oratorio written by Handel.

Mrs. Hartbarger stated that Handel was absolutely without fame and fortune when he wrote "The Messiah" and that it was written in 24 days. The first section or the Christmas section was written about the prophecy of the coming of Christ. The first performance was given in Dublin, Ireland and was given for charity. This year it also will given as a benefit for the children of the community.

Next Tuesday night a get-acquainted party is being planned for the club. Rehearsal will begin at 7 and the party will follow immediately. Anona Anderson, Doris Costley, Elaine DeGrand, and Don Marvic will be the committee in charge of entertainment and refreshments.

Moose Reported Killed Recently Near Shingleton

SHINGLETON — Two moose have been killed recently in the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula, the Conservation Department reports.

Otto DeWaard, Newberry, district game manager, said that one of the moose was killed in the Beaver Basin area north of here. The other was killed north of McMillan in Luce County.

In neither case was the method of killing ascertained. Parts of both animals were recovered and brought to the Newberry district headquarters for study.

"Since 1942 I have received reliable reports of moose seen in all parts of the east end of the Upper Peninsula," DeWaard stated. He listed specific areas in which moose had been observed as follows:

Beaver Basin in Alger County; Shingleton area in Alger and Schoolcraft Counties; the general area south of Sault Ste. Marie, Barbeau, north of Rudyard, all in Chippewa County; north of Brimley in Chippewa County; north of Newberry; Camp River and Trout Lake, both in Chippewa County; north of Blaney Park in Schoolcraft County and Nuns Creek in Mackinac County.

Mrs. I. Walters Is New Munising Probate Register

MUNISING — Probate Judge Arthur D. Wood announces the appointment of Mrs. Irene Walters to succeed Mrs. George Schmidt, the former Molly Depew, as register of the Alger county probate court.

Mrs. Schmidt resigned, effective Oct. 1, to devote her full time to home-making. She served for more than two years and became very proficient in the work. A farewell party, with presentation of a beautiful gift to Mrs. Schmidt, was held recently in the circuit court rooms by courthouse officers and employees. Judge Wood expressed regret in receiving her resignation.

Ignored Sign On Door — Trouble

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Algo DeDominicis, general manager of WNHCTV, unwittingly knocked his own station off the air for a few seconds.

Inspecting new equipment at the station's television transmitter, DeDominicis became so engrossed that he didn't notice a sign reading "KEEP OUT" on a door. He opened it. That's when every receiver tuned to the station went blank.

As a safety precaution, the door is fitted with a device which shuts off the station's power the instant it is opened.

New Directors Picked By Club

George Douglas, Russell Lee and Fred Pollak were elected to the board of directors of the Escanaba Golf Club at the annual membership meeting of the organization this week.

They succeed John R. Arnold, Harry Hogan and T. D. Vinette, whose terms have expired. Vinette also is the retiring president of the club. Other directors are James R. Fitzharris, E. G. Bennett, James G. Ward Jr., Paul Wholen, Juel Lee and Dr. Kirk Harrington.

It was decided at the meeting that hereafter the general chairman of the club's women's activities automatically would serve as a member of the board of directors.

Election of officers will be held at a later date.

City Is Rebuilding Electric Substation

To provide adequate service protection for the area served by No. 3 electric substation, the Escanaba electric department is reconstructing the station located on 12th Ave. S. near the Escanaba Golf Club, according to Harvey Germanson, electric department superintendent.

A crew of men from the electric department expect to finish the work this week. Total cost of the project is about $10,000.

New switch gear is being installed in the No. 3 substation to handle the increasing load, which has outgrown the protection of the old equipment. The peak load demand going through the substation is now 600 kilowatts, and about 7,500 kilowatt hours pass through the substation each day, Germanson reported.

The reconstruction will provide better protection for electric service customers in the area and for the city lines.

Manistique Man Takes Own Life

MANISTIQUE — Jacob Borko, 79, of 236 Chippewa Ave., Manistique, was found dead in his garage late Wednesday afternoon by Manistique city police. Death was caused by hanging.

The police were asked earlier in the afternoon to conduct a search for the man who had been reported missing from his home. He had been dead about an hour when his body was discovered, a doctor who examined the body reported.

The body was removed to the Kefauver and Jackson Funeral Home but funeral arrangements are incomplete.

He retired from city employment June 30, 1952. Mr. Borko was born in Yugoslavia April 25, 1875.

He is survived by his wife and a son.

Part Of Weather Balloon Found By Escanaba Hunter

Parts of a radio sonde weather balloon were found Wednesday afternoon by an Escanaba hunter, Roy Jensen, 2226 Lake Shore Drive.

Jensen said that he came upon the instruments and paper parachute in an open field about 3/4 of a mile north of the Dutch Mill near US-41 about 25 miles from Escanaba.

The find was turned over to S. E. Decker at the Escanaba Weather Bureau who identified it. He said that the instruments are sealed in a heavily waxed cardboard carton when sent aloft. From the condition of the instruments when found, Decker theorized that they may have lain in the field for several years before the sun and rain broke open the carton and weathered the parts.

Weather balloons are sent up periodically by the weather station at the Soo and sometime reach a height of 100,000 feet before bursting, Decker said. A small radio transmits temperature, humidity, and barometric pressure to a station on the ground. A paper parachute eases the instruments to earth. When tracked by radar the balloons indicate the direction and speed of the winds aloft, Decker added.

He will send the serial number of the instruments to Joliet, Ill. in an attempt to learn when and where the balloon was released.

The man who dreams he is wealthy and wakes up poor loses nothing but the sleep.

Distortion Of Wilson's Remarks Is Simply Political Trickery

DEFENSE Secretary Wilson stirred up a political hornet's nest with his offhand reference to bird dogs and kennel dogs in talking about unemployment at a news conference in Detroit this week. Or perhaps it is better to say that the political opponents of Secretary Wilson stirred up a tempest in a teapot by a brazen distortion of Wilson's remarks.

The political furor was touched off by Walter Reuther, the CIO president, who accused Wilson of comparing jobless workers with dogs.

Wilson's remarks were, of course, a simple figure of speech and no fair-minded person could possibly interpret them

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

From a Garnett (Kansas) reader comes this inquiry: "Please tell me the correct letter under which to file the firm name of Ray Frisloe Chevrolet Co."

The rule governing filing practice in this situation is that a corporate title beginning with a Christian name should be filed under the surname thus: "Frisloe, Ray, Chevrolet Co."

Obviously, then, you would be filing this item under the letter "F." I should also suggest a cross-reference in the "C" folder, as "Chevrolet. See Frisloe, Ray, etc."

Another reader—this one from Westchester County (N. Y.)—writes: "Please tell me whether the abbreviation for 'Junior' should be capitalized when addressing a letter. Also, should there be a comma between the surname and the abbreviation? It seems to me I have seen this handled both ways."

This is a difficult question to answer, dear reader—and the reason is that there are almost as many different rulings on these points as there are authorities to make rulings. For example, THE NEW YORK TIMES writes "Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.," while the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE would set it "Franklin D. Roosevelt jr." Still other highly regarded publications use a comma before the abbreviation.

Since there is no consistency among the authorities on this point or, indeed, on many others such as hyphenation and compounding of words, my advice is to choose one recognized authority and follow its rulings consistently. Over the years I have found the STYLE MANUAL of the U. S. Government Printing Office ever reliable and very easy to use. Obviously, too, it can claim a higher degree of authority than any other style guide since many more millions of words are edited annually in accordance with its dictates.

So, finally to answer your query, the GPO STYLE MANUAL favors both comma and capital letter, thus: Herbert Hoover, Jr.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Frank Sullivan says he wants to live just long enough to see a news story about a tremendously eccentric old lady who left all her vast fortune to relatives and not a cent to her beloved Pekinese dog, not to mention an item about thieves who broke into a store and rifled the cash register, which contained $24 and a $50 savings bond. "Concealed in a drawer underneath the register was a shoe box containing $7,640 in cash," continues Mr. Sullivan. "but in my story, the thieves took that, too!"

My own eight-year-old Jonathan suffered a not-too-severe attack of the measles. On the fourth day, his spirits were sufficiently revived for him to enjoy a reading of "King Arthur and His Knights," and call for his crayons and drawing board. In short order he had quite a collection of vivid pictures for us to exclaim over: his usual somewhat startling menagerie of wild animals—elephants, tigers, kangaroos, gorillas. In this set, however, there was one sharp departure from the accepted pattern. Every one of the animals had the measles.

The Doctor Says...

Acne Seldom Leaves Permanent Scars on Victims

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

A mother writes that her teen-age son who is a senior in high school has trouble with pimples on his face, arms, chest and back which has so embarrassed him that he does not want to go out. This is typical of thousands, perhaps hundreds of thousands, and is fully as important because of its psychological and emotional effect on the sensitive adolescent as because of the physical ailment.

Furthermore acne or adolescent pimples generally comes at a time when youngsters are at the peak of their sensitivity concerning personal appearance. The attitude of friends of the same age, and particularly those of the opposite sex, is terribly important and the shrinking from social contacts which severe acne so often brings greatly adds to the difficulty of normal development and social ease.

ONLY A SMALL proportion of those afflicted with acne develop permanent scarring but the fear is always present. Not only is there the usually unnecessary fear of permanent scarring of the face, but the pimples themselves produce an excessive shyness and self-consciousness. Some develop a permanent inferiority complex as a result of acne.

Acne prefers the face, neck, upper part of the chest and shoulders. The pimple usually starts as a reddish lump which is slightly tender to touch. It often develops into a "white head" which actually consists of a mixture of pus, germs, skin oil, and destroyed tissue cells.

IN THE MILD cases, the pimples are spaced rather widely apart and are near the surface. In more severe cases they are closer together, break out more frequently and burrow deeper into the skin. When a white head forms the top of the pustule finally breaks open, the pus escapes, a crust forms and healing takes place. If the pustule has been large and deep a permanent scar may be left, though this is fortunately the exception.

Infection alone almost certainly does not explain the development of acne. Diet almost certainly plays a part. Many, if not most, adolescents have a craving for sweets and sweets almost always make acne worse.

A SPECIAL effort should be made to overcome the self-consciousness caused by pimples. Every boy and girl should force himself or herself to take part in social functions and ignore any remarks which might be made.

In addition to seeking proper medical advice AND FOLLOWING IT, the condition should be ignored so far as going to or staying away from social events is concerned. If permanent scarring does occur it may be possible with new methods such as the steel brush or sandpapering to greatly improve the appearance of the skin.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Irrespective of the merits of segregation or non-segregation as a social question and looking at the controversy solely as a realistic development in American politics, it is not too early to say that the Republican party has lost out in the South for decades to come.

From now on it will be found that affiliation of most of the Republicans in the South with the Democratic party has been resumed in the hope of keeping the South on the conservative side.

It isn't generally realized perhaps what has been happening in the South since the Roosevelt and Truman administrations began agitating the civil-rights issue. Thus, the Republican vote in the 11 states of the so-called solid south went from 700,942, or about 18 per cent of the southern vote in 1932, to 3,955,254 or 46 per cent of the total, in 1952.

STATES RIGHTS

Where did this big Republican vote come from? In 1948, when the civil-rights issue was hotly contested in the South, the Republicans polled 1,361,742 and the states' rights party got 1,154,525. Combining these two, we get a total of 2,516,267. This was just slightly under the vote of 2,557,402 cast by the Democrats that same year.

Unquestionably in 1952 virtually all the states' rights vote went to the Republicans because they polled 3,955,254 and the Democrats got 4,428,163 in those same 11 states.

Why did the states' rights Democrats vote for Eisenhower? They believed he was committing the Republican party to states' rights because in his campaign speeches he said that he believed in "states' rights." That was a magic phrase in the South. Mr. Eisenhower's position on the tidelands oil issue, moreover, was accepted as concrete evidence of his fidelity to the doctrine of states' rights.

But since the Eisenhower administration sent a special counsel from the Department of Justice to appear before the Supreme Court of the United States to argue against segregation, and later boasted about the part it played in persuading the justices to rule as they did, there is no longer any doubt in the South that the Eisenhower administration has reverted to the traditional position of the Republican party on the civil-rights issue. The move was wholly unnecessary from a political standpoint, and the weakness in the strategy that prompted it was the assumption that there would be a compensating vote among the Negroes in the north. But the Negro vote in the north is no longer as solid as it used to be for any party, and today the labor unions and radical organizations swing large numbers of Negroes to the Democratic party.

RETURN OF INDEPENDENTS

The statistics of the voting in the south in the last few elections indicate what a return of the "independents" to the Democratic primaries can mean. Added strength for the conservative side will come from those Democrats who have voted regularly for their own party heretofore but who now have been stirred up by the segregation decision. Many foresee it as opening up the doors of intermarriage because state laws forbidding this might be held unconstitutional.

With the southern conservatives in possession of committee chairmanships in Congress and with the southern bloc committed against radical and socialistic legislation, the conservatives of the north will be told they may find that the Democratic party is better able in the long run to ward off a socialistic government than is the Republican party of so-called "liberals."

It's really the formula which by analogy President Eisenhower proclaimed in his Denver speech last Friday. He called for the continuing support of the "independents" who came from the Democratic party to vote for him in 1952. Spokesmen of the White House in recent months have repeatedly described these "independents" as of the so-called "liberal" school. In the border states, however—Maryland, Kentucky, Oklahoma, and West Virginia—many of the "independents" are aggrieved over the segregation issue, and it is doubtful if in any of those states the Republicans will retain the seats in Congress which they now hold.

By dividing their votes between the two parties heretofore, the conservatives in both the north and south have been losing their leverage in American politics. Much will be heard hereafter on the proposal that, by uniting everywhere within a single party—the Democratic party—and fighting for the nomination of non-radicals in the primaries, the conservatives may have a chance to keep governmental policies from moving into the direction of state socialism, public ownership, control of all education by the federal government, and the heavy tax burdens that come from the so-called "welfare state."

Don't Feel Sorry For Your Boy Who Is A Soldier In Korea

By SUMNER AHLBUM

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (NEA)—If your boy is a soldier in Korea—or if he faces the prospect of duty over there—don't feel sorry for him.

Although Korea is not exactly a picnic, even in peace, it is also the land of opportunity under the Army's new program to wipe out the boredom that often goes with peacetime duty overseas.

Under "operation opportunity," your boy is more than likely to come home far better equipped for his civilian future than he was when he left.

"We accept the responsibility for turning out better citizens," says Maj. Gen. Charles W. Christenberry, who is now voluntarily retiring from active service after supervising plans for off-duty opportunities for the uniformed personnel at the Far East—and prior to that for the entire Army.

"And," he adds, "the nation has a right to expect us to turn back the young men better than we got them."

General Christenberry, a wartime veteran of the Mediterranean theater, was Chief of the Special Services Division of the Army before he went to Korea in 1952 as Eighth Army Deputy Chief of Staff. A year later he became assistant chief of staff for personnel, Far East and UN Commands.

In those posts, he was able to watch at first-hand the development of "operation opportunity," the project closest to his heart. He will continue to watch it in his new role as chief executive officer of the American-Korean Foundation under his former Eighth Army boss, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, chairman of the Foundation.

In Korea today—and in Japan and Okinawa—hundreds of American boys are getting their high school diplomas. Scores are building up credits toward university degrees. Others are taking courses, not for credit but as preparation for some particular aim in life.

These are not catch-as-catch-can courses conducted by officers as extra-curricular duty, but organized education. Many of the instructors are from the faculty of the University of California, attached to the Far East forces as civilians. Scores of officers and enlisted men help out as part-time instructors.

With 45 per cent of its soldiers under voting age, the off-duty training program also concentrates on developing better reading and study habits for the men, on keeping them abreast of current affairs, on developing teamwork in sports, on showing them why they are in Korea and how their job fits into the Indo-China picture and the rest of the Far East.

"What we are trying to do," explains Christenberry, "is to integrate the uniformed man and woman into the community life they'll share later. We are also trying to show the people back home what their boys are doing."

"Our men overseas must be kept tough and ready, of course. This calls for continuous, intensive military training, which a soldier expects—and respects. But it is also important that interesting off-duty programs are provided."

Christenberry, who is known to countless soldiers as "General Cris," is a tall, scholarly-looking man with a voice that is rich in both friendliness and the zeal of a missionary.

That zeal extends to the people of Korea as well as to the American boys helping them defend their peace.

"I know the Korean people and their potentials," says the general, who has sat in on that country's civilian and civil affairs. "They are worth saving. They are rich with ancient culture and take naturally to Christianity. It won't happen tomorrow, but in the long range view, the Republic of Korea is strong in the potential of becoming a democratic nation."

Apparently some of this zeal has rubbed off on the American soldiers there in the course of "operation opportunity." For in addition to voluntary studies, sports, fishing, hunting, and other assorted off-duty activities, many of the soldiers have pitched in to help the Koreans rebuild their war-shattered resources.

GIs have helped build new homes, schools and churches with skills they learned in the Army and will undoubtedly put to use in their civilian future. They have helped in the restoration of Chosen and Iwa Universities. Boys from farms have learned how to clean out rice paddies, bogged down by the tide-tides of battle.

The official off-duty training program of voluntary activities is being continuously worked over with America's top educators and recreational experts. Christenberry is frank to admit it is "not entirely successful, but is becoming increasingly so."

Such a program "requires patience," he adds, "because we're working with a lot of young men, many of whom have never had such opportunities before. Some of the 'tougher' boys resist it, but the Army, Navy and Air Force men out there are learning more about the world these days than any other comparable group."

One handicap to morale, he points out, is letters from home in which parents, without intending to, encourage homesickness and griping by feeling sorry for the fact their boys have to be in the Far East.

"Instead," he urges, "they should be encouraging their boys to take advantage of the opportunities, they're offered. Korea is no picnic, but it's no worse, either, than a boy helping earn his way through college."

On retirement from active service, General Christenberry was awarded an oak leaf cluster to the Distinguished Service Medal for his work in the Far East Command.

But he is not retiring from Korea. He is going to continue to work in the interests of the people in whose future he has strong faith. Like "operation opportunity" for the men in service, the American-Korean Foundation's aim is to "help the Koreans to help themselves."

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Mrs. George Humphrey, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, is an avid fan of the Cleveland Indians and she attended the last two World Series games in Cleveland where the Humphreys live. Several days after the Cleveland tragedy Mrs. Humphrey was scheduled to christen a giant new lake steamer, so George sent her a wire saying: "Hope your swing with the bottle of champagne is better than the swing of the Indian batters."

THE RECENT operation on Ike's first Secretary of Labor, Martin Durkin, sent the White House into a small flap. When it was announced that Durkin was to undergo surgery, someone in the Executive Mansion raised the question as to whether Durkin had ever picked up the chair he had used as a member of the cabinet after he resigned, as is the custom.

With most of the White House staff at Denver nobody appeared to know. Someone called his office—he is president of the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry of the United States and Canada—and got the report that there was no cabinet chair there.

There ensued a long and frantic search at the White House and still no chair was to be found. Finally the White House called the Durkin home, and to the relief of everyone discovered that he had taken it home and was using it at his dining room table.

THERE WAS a high old time at the Department of Commerce when veteran employees there threw a party for former President Hoover, who had the Commerce building built during his administration.

When he left the White House the Democrats dubbed the building "Hoover's Folly," and partly because of that, Hoover admitted, he had only been in the structure three times since 1928. For 20 years the place never seemed very friendly," he recalled.

When Hoover was told that $71 employees in the Commerce auditorium had been there when he was Secretary of Commerce he said, "Those of you who weathered the storm obviously have unusual merits."

"When I first went to work there," Hoover related, "I was told that it was the easiest job in government, that all I had to do was put the fish to bed and turn on the lights along the coast."

He was referring to the aquarium the department has maintained and the light-house service which used to be in Commerce.

Nathan D. Goldon, one of the veteran employees who had been there under Hoover recalled:

"I will never forget when Mr. Hoover came out of the building, saw a bum walking by and gave him $2."

DRY ICE HAS entered the cold war against communism. The Crusade for Freedom's new balloon-borne leaflet campaign now saturating Hungary, employs a recently unveiled technique to drop anti-red leaflets with pinpoint accuracy.

Suspended from each of the plastic balloons is a wire frame fitted with two carriers, one above the other in a ferris-wheel-like arrangement. The lower carrier is filled with dry ice which evaporates after eight hours, causing the leaflets-laden upper carrier to invert because of its greater weight and spill the printed matter from an altitude of 30,000 feet.

Chevrolet Union Votes To Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Local 262 of the CIO United Auto Workers Wednesday night voted approval of a strike against the Chevrolet spring and muffler plant in suburban Livonia.

Robert A. Howren, local president, said the union members entered the meeting hall "barking like dogs" and voted overwhelming approval of a strike.

Chevrolet is a unit of General Motors Corp., formerly headed by Defense Secretary Wilson.

Howren said Local 262 has been in dispute with management over working conditions and four weeks of negotiations have been fruitless. He said a strike will be called if there is no early settlement.

Motorist Fined For Intoxicated Driving

Robert L. White, 40, of 601 Wisconsin Ave., Gladstone, today pleaded guilty in Justice Caroline A. Nyström's court to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants and was ordered to pay a fine of $50 and costs. His operator's license was revoked, as required by state statute.

White pleaded not guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident, outgrowth of an accident in which a parked car, owned by Paul Drefs of 1318 1st Ave. S., was struck and damaged. The car was parked in the 600 block, Stephenson Ave.

Escanaba police arrested White at 9:17 p. m. yesterday after their attention was directed to White's car, which had a flat tire and only one headlight.

Controversy On Taxes
Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary, campaigning in Wayne County, took issue with Williams on the latter's criticism of GOP tax bills.

One was the 1951 bill increasing the gasoline tax to 4½ cents a gallon, passed by the Republican Legislature over Williams' veto, at the time that the highway program could be financed for "much less" than the tax would produce. "Now the governor tells you," Cleary said, "the highway program is wholly inadequate despite the additional revenue from passage of the bill. If his veto had been accepted, there would have been practically no funds."

Sen. Ferguson, addressing a "Girls for Ferguson Club" in Detroit, spoke in praise of the Republican administration's foreign policy.

He said the administration's "outstanding achievement" in its 20 months in office was that "we have removed the fear of war." Ferguson's audience was a women's luncheon group of about 350 secretaries, stenographers and bookkeepers.

McNamara, Ferguson's adversary, said at Marquette that Ferguson was campaigning on the coattails of President Eisenhower and Sen. Joseph McCarthy. He also charged the Republicans "ignore the people and kick them around."

Strike Ties Up London Busses

LONDON (AP)—Bus service in vast, sprawling London neared complete disruption today as the number of drivers and conductors out on a wildcat strike shot over the 12,000 mark.

The normally bustling Thames dock area came to a standstill, meanwhile, under the impact of the continuing three-sided walkout of stevedores and ship repairmen. More than 29,000 of the dock force were idle and 132 ships could not move.

The ever-growing bus walkout by dawn had halted all double-deckers and trolleys on 83 of the approximately 200 routes in the metropolitan area.

Subway trains were jammed with extra riders. Additional automobiles and bicycles swelled the usual downtown traffic jam.

Officials of the state-owned system estimated 2,500 of the city's 7,100 buses did not leave their garages.

Strike leaders called further meetings during the day in an attempt to persuade more of the 43,000 unionized bus operators to join the stoppage, which stems from a long-standing demand for higher pay and better working conditions. Union officials oppose the walkout.

Slugged With Pipe

From the rear seat, Marceca crashed a length of iron pipe on Governante's head. As he screamed, Sorrese wrapped a length of rope around his neck and began to tighten it.

Shouting for help, Governante fought desperately. Then, he said, Marceca drew a gun and fired. Governante said he swung at the gun and deflected the muzzle. The gun went off and a bullet crashed into Sorrese's brain.

Again Marceca pointed the weapon at him, Governante said. Before he could fire, the latter said, he bent Marceca's hand around. When the gun went off, the bullet entered Marceca's chest.

Marceca was described as in serious condition in Long Island Jewish Hospital.

Meanwhile Joseph Benenati, 33, who lives nearby, heard the shots. His 8-year-old son and his sister-in-law's two youngsters were playing outside.

Fearing the children were endangered, possibly by kidnapers, Benenati rushed outside, jumped into his car and rammed his car into Bommarito's.

Benenati said he captured Bommarito with a flying tackle as he attempted to escape. Bommarito was booked on a homicide charge.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market ran into a selling flurry today that packed enough force to send prices sharply lower.

Losses went from one to around three points in many instances. When the excitement passed, prices began a recovery from their lows.

There was no immediate cause assigned for the sell-off. The market all week has been nervously lower. Wednesday only strength in a handful of railroads kept average prices higher.

At the opening today, there was a higher trend in evidence. That soon gave way to a mixed price picture.

Among major losers were Union Pacific, Royal Dutch, Amerasia, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Homestake Mining, Union Carbide, Westinghouse Electric, Climax Molybdenum, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Sears Roebuck, Glenn Martin, Douglas Aircraft and United Aircraft.

Conlin Answers Women Voters

LANSING (AP)—Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) today struck back at the League of Women Voters' opposition to his Conlin plan to revise the sales tax diversion amendment.

The Conlin plan will be on the Nov. 2 state ballot for a decision by the voters.

Accusing the league of failing to offer any constructive criticism of the plan, Conlin asked, "If proposal No. 2 is rejected, and the state is later thereby unable to pay the sales tax money due our public schools, cities, villages and townships, will the league be ready to bail them out?"

Conlin said a complete revision of Michigan's financial structure would be necessary to meet the league's objections. His plan, he said, was not intended to do this but would remove the so-called "time bomb" in the sales tax diversion, which forces the state to pay out local aid money on the basis of revenues two years earlier.

The league's demand that sales taxes be diverted to local government on the basis of need, Conlin said, would create an "unthinkable, super-state government."

He said the Legislature, to determine needs, would have to review the budgets of all local units. This, he said, would lead to state meddling in all local affairs.

More Than Half Don't Serve

Energy Of Sun To Run Homes

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The sun's energy can be used to power stoves and other household appliances. It can also be used in small solar-power machines for such things as irrigation, heating and cooling houses, and charging batteries.

Use of such appliances and engines will be widespread within five years. And businessmen are missing a bet by not looking into the possibilities of a new solar energy industry.

These predictions are made—as a sort of an aside—by scientists who are meeting here today with manufacturers, engineers, and utility officials for the primary purpose of studying the industrial uses of atomic energy.

Small Power Units
The solar energy use these scientists are talking about is for small-scale power units. They think these things could come soon, if industrial leaders would take them up. They contend we shouldn't wait on the big-scale developments planned for the future use of atomic power plants or large size solar engines.

"There is a world-wide demand for small solar-power machines, up to five horsepower, for irrigation, heating and cooling of dwellings, charging batteries, and other ranch uses," Charles G. Abbot of the Smithsonian Institution says.

The demand is very keen in Australia, India, Israel, and other semi-arid regions, where fuel is several times more expensive than in the United States.

But he notes there are at least 150,000 square miles in California, Arizona and Nevada, where the sun furnishes sufficient energy for such power plants during 300 days per year.

Solar Stove Tested
"At present there is no company manufacturing such units, though the demand is large and constant," Abbot says. "I receive several inquiries a week where such devices are available. I have to reply that they exist now only at the Smithsonian."

Another scientist at the National Industrial Conference Board's forum on atomic energy in industry has her eye on the housewife. Dr. Maria Telkes, of the college of engineering of New York University, says small household appliances powered by the sun can soon be a reality in many parts of the world, especially those where conventional fuels are at a premium.

These areas will be candidates in time for large-scale solar energy power plants. But within five years she believes, small devices will be in use. Her own university is testing a solar stove.

Secretary Wilson Sorry He Spoke About Bird Dogs

dent and said he thought Wilson's speech was "a very fine job in clearing up any misunderstanding."

BENNETT INDIGNANT
MARQUETTE —Rep. John B. Bennett (R-Mich.) wired President Eisenhower today that Defense Secretary Wilson "has no business being a cabinet officer of our government."

Bennett is a 10-year House veteran from Michigan's 12th Congressional District, the western Upper Peninsula, where unemployment has been growing in both iron ore and copper mining this year. He is opposed for reelection by former Rep. Frank Hook, a Democrat.

Bennett's virtual demand for Wilson's dismissal was based on the secretary's "kennel dogs" vs. "bird dogs" statement in connection with unemployment. Bennett's wire to the President said:

"Secretary Wilson's statement on unemployment was arrogant and insulting to the working people of the country. A man who indicates so little appreciation and understanding of human values and the dignity of the individual citizen has no business being a cabinet officer of our government."

"He certainly does not speak for me as one Republican member of Congress, and I am sure his careless utterances in Detroit are deeply regretted by millions of members of our party."

Iron Ore Tonnage Continues To Drop

The tonnage figure for iron ore carried on the Great Lakes in September dropped to 7,951,317 gross tons as compared to the 1953 month when 13,213,573 tons were handled, Oliver T. Burnham, Lake Carriers' Association vice president reported.

Grain and coal cargoes carried last month by lake carriers were larger in volume than in the same month in 1951-52. Cumulative totals for the three commodities for the year on Oct. 1 totaled 93,263,116, down from the record 133,015,934 tons on the corresponding date last year.

Port Cities Told Boom Is Coming

EAST LANSING (AP)—"Every port city in Michigan is a potential world port," says John C. Beukema of Muskegon, a member of the president's St. Lawrence Seaway Commission.

Beukema spoke Tuesday before the third annual real estate appraisal conference at Michigan State College.

"None of us has the slightest conception of what water-borne commerce can mean to Michigan," Beukema said. "World trade will bring us many new types of business and industry."

Beukema predicted that many branch factories will spring up in Michigan, a boom in ship-building activities, great expansion in chemical industries and many new commercial businesses such as importing firms.

"Don't think these developments will come tomorrow, though," he added. "It will take time to develop our potentialities."

Beukema said businessmen and others must work to obtain an extension of the present St. Lawrence Seaway plans.

"We must work to obtain the construction of the seaway through the Detroit River and Sault Ste. Marie areas so big ocean-going vessels can reach all our Michigan ports," he said.

Diphtheria Death In Bangor, Mich., School Watched

BANGOR (AP)—Citizens of Bangor a waited results of tests which will determine whether a 9-year-old girl who died of diphtheria Monday transmitted the disease to other school children.

Under the school district's regular health program, some 1,200 youngsters had been immunized against the disease Oct. 4, five days before Margaret Rodin, daughter of a migrant farm worker, was found to have contracted diphtheria. Another 108 children were vaccinated Tuesday with serum furnished by the State Health Department in Lansing.

Dr. F. S. Leeder, director of the department's Bureau of Communicable Disease Control, said throat cultures are being taken from all children who had contact with the Rodin girl or her family. Leeder said the cultures are being tested in Lansing to determine whether any of the children are carriers of the disease.

"We are bound to find some positive cultures because even when a child has been immunized he can carry the infection in his throat for a few days and pass it on to others without ever becoming sick himself," Dr. Leeder said.

The Rodin girl, who came to Bangor from Alabama with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Rodin, had not been immunized. She became ill last week but the illness was not diagnosed as diphtheria until Saturday.

Her brothers and sisters continued attending local schools all last week. The girl died Monday night in Bronson Memorial Hospital, Kalamazoo.

Dr. Leeder said he was not "perturbed" by the situation.

I think you will find that our own population is immune, because Michigan has had a long-standing program of vaccinating children when they are babies," he said.

"There may be some more cases among the migrant children from states which do not have such concentrated immunization."

Dr. Leeder said Michigan had two deaths from diphtheria in 1953 and 1952. The Bangor death is the first this year.

Hunting Tips

AP Newsfeatures
7. Hunting time is color time, says the National Rifle Assn. The animals you hunt use camouflage, but your aim should be to wear colors that will make other hunters see you. Careless hunters take aim when they think they see game. Clothing which contrasts with the landscape can help make certain you are not the moving object that the careless fellow shoots.

Sheriff Prisoner By Losing Key

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (P) — Sheriff Dick Cowherd handcuffed himself to the prisoner, and gave the handcuff key to a deputy, who put it in a shirt pocket. Then the three left for a corn field to search for a missing murder weapon.

When they returned to jail, the deputy discovered the key was missing. He had dropped it while bending over to search the field. The cuffs had to be cut off.

Russia Has Jet A-Bomb Carriers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas said Russia has atom bomb carrying airplanes that fly faster than the speed of sound.

The statement apparently was the first by a qualified American official to attribute such speed to Russian bombers.

The Air Force has said only that Russian jet bombers, unveiled last spring, have given the Soviets the ability to wage intercontinental air warfare with fast planes comparable to the B47 all-jet bomber and the even larger and more powerful B52.

Thomas gave no elaboration in the text of a speech prepared for the Greater Philadelphia-Delaware-South Jersey Council.

After saying what other American officials have reported many times—that the Soviets have a 20,000-plane air force which includes many latest type jets—the Navy secretary said the Russians have "atomic weapons and aircraft faster than the speed of sound with which to deliver them." (At sea level, sound travels at about 760 miles an hour.)

Schaffer

Terry DeLoughary returned Thursday from St. Francis Hospital where he was a medical patient since August due to an injury received in an auto accident.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin LeClaire of Spokane, Wash., are the parents of a son, Steven Joseph, who was born Sept. 24. The baby weighed 8 pounds and 5½ ounces at birth. Melvin LeClaire, who is in the U. S. Air Force, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse LeClaire.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Szczygiel of Chicago are the parents of a daughter, Julie Ann, born Aug. 27. She was christened Sunday, Oct. 10. The mother is the former Patsy DeLoughary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold DeLoughary.

Nahma

NAHMA—Mrs. Edith Morgan of Detroit is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Nick Genuenden. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hazen, also of Detroit visited friends here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Deloria of Eveleth, Minn., visited at the Antone Deloria home Sunday.

Frances Sefcik, of Lake Forest, Ill., and her guest, Hoe Preti of Highwood, Ill., spent the weekend at the Frank Sefcik home.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Sefcik and Mrs. Carolyn Sefcik have returned to Anderson Ind., following a weekend visit at their home here.

Don't call the white-coated men when you see a fellow going in circles—he's probably only trying to make ends meet.

IT'S ALL IN ONE'S TASTE—Laverne Mather, a Bloomington, Ill., painter and decorator, isn't exactly the most popular man in his neighborhood after he finished painting his home. He painted the house a shining black enamel; the chimney, white; the driveway, a young lettuce green; and the front door and porch railing, aqua blue. Mrs. Mather holds a sign which reads—"Maybe We Don't Like the Color of Your House. We Like Ours This Way."

Struggle For Control Of Montgomery Ward May Go Into Court

CHICAGO (AP)—Florida financier Louis E. Wolfson says he will go to court if necessary in his effort to gain control of Montgomery Ward & Co., the world's second largest merchandising firm.

In a letter to the nine Ward directors Tuesday Wolfson asked repeal of company bylaws under which directors are elected to staggered terms. If this is not done by the board, he said, he will seek a court order requiring that all directors stand for election each year.

He wrote that the current provision for staggered terms is illegal in Illinois.

Bird Patients Want To Remain

WARWICK, Va. (AP)—Mrs. U. S. Savage started her bird hospital after finding a wounded jay and the patient population is now 29 birds which have fallen from nests or been injured in some way. There is only one trouble—the discharged patients don't want to leave after they are released from the cat-proof cage. Mrs. Savage admits she likes it that way and willingly provides food.

Wolfson, who with associates has been buying heavily into Ward stock in recent months, hopes to win control of the 700 million dollar mail order and retail firm at the April 1955 election of directors.

Under present bylaws the terms of three directors—including the 80-year-old chairman, Sewell Avery—will expire in April, three more in 1956 and the remaining three in 1957.

A Montgomery Ward spokesman said Avery declined to comment either on Wolfson's letter or his campaign for control of the firm.

Wolfson, who has opened an office in Chicago, where Montgomery Ward maintains its headquarters, said at a news conference Tuesday that he, his wife, children, other members of his family and friends now have "in excess of 500,000 shares" of Ward's common stock.

Ward has 6,502,378 shares of stock outstanding.

Drummond Dolomite Razzes Russians On Production Record

DRUMMOND ISLAND — Employees of Drummond Dolomite, Inc., are having a big laugh on Pravda, the Russian newspaper whose name means "truth."

Drummond Dolomite, Inc., claims to operate the world's largest producer of dolomite, although a larger plant is being built on the Upper Peninsula mainland west of this St. Marys River island.

So when Drummond Dolomite employees heard that Pravda had made "the world's largest" claim for Russia's Stalin dolomite plant in the Donets Basin they got interested.

Pravda, they found, declared that "socialist competition" at the Russian plant had produced three-quarters of a million tons of dolomite in a year, "over - fulfilling their plan by about 50 per cent."

So Drummond workers wrote Pravda a letter, with a copy to Soviet Premier Malenkov. It said: "We have news for you. We reached the three-quarter million mark six years ago. Last year we produced over two and a half million tons."

(Dolomite is a limestone with a high magnesium content. It has a wide variety of uses, including that of a flux in iron ore blast furnaces, as a construction aggregate, and even for refining sugar.)

Pravda said the Stalin plant's "remarkable production" was achieved with 350 employees. Drummond Dolomite, Inc., employs only 200.

The Drummond employees also told Pravda in their letter:

"We boys are paid immensely better than your boys. And we have job security. We can quit any time we want to and move on somewhere else. We can own our own homes and vote as we please, and worship God as we please—and if we please, Liberty is a great producer of many things, including dolomite."

Macomb County Area Seeks Flood Relief

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower has ordered the Federal Civil Defense Administration to survey storm damage in south Macomb County, Mich., to determine whether the area is eligible for federal disaster relief.

The President's order to Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson was made at the request of Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott (R-Mich.).

Spokesmen for the civil defense agency said representatives would start the damage survey this week.

The south Macomb County area was certified by Gov. Williams Monday as a disaster area eligible for federal flood control relief.

Country Club Closing Dinner Dance Saturday

Arrangements are complete for the closing event at the Escanaba Golf and Country Club, the informal dinner dance which will be held Saturday evening, Oct. 16, following the Iron Mountain-Escanaba football game.

Reservations which close this evening may be made by calling the club house or Mrs. Dana R. Peck, 2915R.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. George Douglas, the George C. Stuarts and the Harry Needhams are members of the dinner dance committee.

Your Baby

Don't urge Baby to stand or walk and don't hurry him. His actions are coordinated with his bone and muscle development and this varies from baby to baby. So the progress of the baby next door has nothing to do with yours. Baby may stand alone, or walk, before he's a year old. But generally, he'll start walking at around 15 months. Large, heavy babies seldom start even then. Talking comes first, as a rule, even if it's just a few words.

Baby may use as many as a dozen diapers a day. They should be soft and lightweight, wash easily and dry rapidly. Most popular are the knit and the gauze. The gauze wear as well as the heavier fabrics, possibly because they wash so easily. It's most important that diapers be neither bulky nor irritating to Baby's skin. Diaper liners are available and save both time and scrubbing.

Baby begins to crawl about when his back is strong enough so that he sits alone. He may go on all fours, go sideways, creep or roll. Only a very few babies skip the crawling stage entirely. Usually, between seven to nine months, Baby is so curious that he finds his own way of moving about. It's an advantage to let him used to a play pen at the age of three or four months so that he grows accustomed to having his movements limited at least a part of the time.

Runaway Boys From Alger County Held For Stealing Cars

Three Alger County boys on a runaway spree yesterday stole and abandoned two cars, but their escapade ended with apprehension by Michigan State Police, who will turn them over to juvenile court authorities.

They are a Shingleton boy, 15, and two 12-year-olds of Munising. They first drove away a car owned by Leonard Sharkey of Marquette Rte. 1, which was abandoned in Gladstone on M-35 and was discovered by city police at 7:25 p. m. yesterday.

At 7:30 p. m. the police received a report that a car owned by Clifford Lindquist of Gladstone had been stolen.

State Police found the car between Shingleton and Munising later last night and picked up the three juveniles in the vicinity of the car.

PAROLEES LOSE DOCTORS

DES MOINES (P)—A parolee is not eligible for medical treatment at a penal institution hospital says an Iowa attorney general's ruling. If the parole is revoked, the person involved then would become eligible for hospital aid, the opinion added.

Trucker Drove Over Dangerous Package

FLINT, Mich. (P)—John Bonner, 11, is going to think twice before he crawls into any more cardboard boxes. He was playing in a box in an alley when Hazen Royce, thinking the box was empty, drove his truck over it. The boy escaped with a bump on his head, possible back injuries and a cut scalp.

Survey To Be Made Of Buying Habits Of City

William J. Carey, field representative of the Bureau of Business Research and Extension for the University of Michigan will shortly conduct a survey to show the buying habits of the residents of Gladstone.

Sponsoring the survey of the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce, Carey, who will conduct the survey here, has conducted similar surveys in the Upper Peninsula, recently in Marquette. Carey is a merchandiser, himself, having worked in a large department store in Decatur, Ill.

A graduate of the University of Illinois with a degree in Business Administration, Carey played on the University basketball team while in school.

Carey will be the speaker at a dinner of Commerce sponsored dinner on Tuesday, Oct. 26, at the Lincoln Hotel.

Faculty Reception Is Pleasant Event

A pleasant reception for members of the Gladstone Public School faculty was held Monday evening at the high school gymnasium under joint auspices of the Child's Welfare Club, the Central Parent-Teacher Association and the Buckeye Parent-Teacher Association.

Members of the staff were introduced by Mrs. William Sepic, president of the Central P.T.A. Mrs. H. J. Skogquist arranged and announced numbers on the program. "An Apple for Teacher" theme was used in decorations which were handled by Mrs. Marvin Larsen. Tables were lighted by candles set in bright red apples and name cards worn by teachers were in the shape of an apple. The luncheon serving table was also very attractive.

The program presented during the evening proved highly enjoyable. One could have listened for hours to the Salon String Ensemble of Escanaba which offered a group of four numbers. Forming the unit were Mrs. Clara Somers, Mrs. August Brazeau, Isadore Stein, Mrs. Arol Beck, Elie Dryver, Mrs. James Rouman and Arol Beck. Miss Louise Klug presented a flute solo, Mrs. Mary Jo Bolger a piano selection, Jean LaBranche, Escanaba, two soprano solos; Joyce Peterson two interpretive dances and Sharon Collins, several accordion numbers. All were well received.

Serving of refreshments followed the program.

Barata Wasn't On Map Of The World

NEW YORK, (AP)—The maharajah may never have learned how to do the rumba, but he knew how to get his picture in the papers. A heavily bearded and mustached man, adorned with a turban strongly resembling a towel, appeared at a movie premiere and told photographers he was the maharajah of Barata.

He was quite a hit—and so were the two gorgeous ladies with him. Two days later it developed that: The ladies were models. There is no such place as Barata. Barata is Portuguese for cockroach.

Physicals To Be Held For Pupils Of Kindergarten

The Central and Buckeye schools will again be the scene of kindergarten physical examinations to be conducted next Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 18 and 19, by Dr. William Harrison, head of the Delta-Menominee Health Department.

Kindergarten physicals or summer round-ups are an attempt on the part of the school and community to reach the main objective of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in regard to school health. This objective, based on the need to educate parents to have their children in a satisfactory physical condition on entering school, can be broken into three groups rather than one: namely, 1 education for improved child health, 2 physical appraisal of child before entering school and 3 correction of defects including immunizations.

Any physical or dental defects as found in the examinations are referred to the family physician or dentist for correction. Parents are urged to ask any questions pertinent to the health of their child including diet, immunizations, emotional upsets, etc.

Permission blanks have been sent to homes of pupils through the pupils and when all have been tabulated appointment times will be assigned and the parents of each child advised. If the time assigned is inconvenient to the parent, it may be indicated on the permission blank. No child will be examined without parental permission or without the presence of one parent.

Assisting Dr. Harrison will be the school nurse, Elizabeth Nelson, and a group of students: namely Gloria Burcar, Mary Alice Cameron and Pat Ellingson.

Tip to motorists: Watch out for school kids—they weren't brought up to be run down.

APEX ALARM CLOCK

The best buy in years. This dependable 40 Hour Alarm Clock is a beauty! Guaranteed Ingraham movement. In lustrous Ivory finish. Clear view numerals, convex glass.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

One bright Upper Peninsula collegiate football player is showing so much brilliance that another former U. P. star is being shoved into the background. . . . Bob Gingrass, former star Iron Mountain quarterback, is the No. 1 left half at the University of Wisconsin. . . . Ken Hofer, ex-halfback ace at Stephenson, is ranked No. 3 at that same spot.

Gingrass has been a factor in Wisconsin's three straight wins this season over Marquette, Michigan State and Rice. . . . In those three games he has carried the ball eight times for a 2.5 rushing average, has caught three passes good for 53 yards and has punted four times for 158 yards, a 39.5 average.

Pete Kutches scored another touchdown and saw extensive service as Wyoming defeated Colorado A&M last Saturday. . . . The former St. Joe star carried the ball 14 times for 59 yards, an average of 4.2 per trip, completed two passes in two attempts for 27 yards.

The Upper Peninsula boasts a host of speedy halfbacks and lots of clever quarterbacks this season. . . . But there are relatively few good, old-fashioned fullbacks who can blast that line for vital yardage. . . . Gladstone has one of the best in Tom Brewer, and Manistique has another ace in Don Anderson. . . . Brewer has averaged 8.6 yards per carry for Coach Don Pfothenauer's Braves in five games.

If you haven't seen any high school grid games yet this season you'd better hurry or you'll be watching basketball instead. . . . Yep, the season is almost over. . . . After this weekend there will be just two more games on top for most teams in the U. P.

Braves Shoot For Great Lakes Title

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Braves, gunning for their first Great Lakes conference title in years, travel to Ishpeming where they will clash with the hapless Hematites under the lights on Friday evening.

A win will clinch at least a tie for the title while if Manistique is able to conquer the Soo the title will come here. At present and for several weeks, Gladstone and the Soo have been deadlocked for the conference lead.

While Ishpeming has been able to chalk up only one victory this fall, Coach Don Pfothenauer is not taking the game lightly. A mental let-down could be costly, he pointed out.

Practice sessions have been designed to stop a passing attack which the Hematites are expected to use in an effort to garner their second victory of the season.

"Our biggest worry is over-confidence," Coach Pfothenauer said yesterday. "However, the boys do not appear to be complacent and if they play up to their ability we should win," he declared. Physically the squad will be at full strength.

No changes are planned in the starting lineup. John Quinn and Jack Beach will be at ends, Larry Feldt and Roger Lamberg at tackles, Richard Ryan and Jerry Leander at guards, Guy Gereau at center, Jim Sundelius at quarter, J. C. Miller and Charles Burton at halfbacks and Capt. Tom Breker at fullback.

Little Fullback Leads College Pass Catchers

NEW YORK — Dick James, the little Oregon fullback, is the major college pass-catching leader with 16 according to statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Fourteen others are within six catches of James. The main reason that James holds the lead is that his partner, George Shaw, is the nation's leading passer.

They'll both be on view Saturday when they play Southern California in the NCAA's television game of the week. Southern Cal, incidentally, has a pass catching leader of its own. He is Linden Crow who has caught only four, but has

Solid Vote Keeps Redskins In Top U.P. Grid Position

Gladstone And Central Climb

With only Stephenson and Iron Mountain yet to play, Iron River Redskins appear to be a solid choice for the U. P. grid championship this year and the Barber Trophy.

U. P. Sports Writers gave the Redskins a blanket vote for first place again this week — the 7th straight week in first place — after they remained the only undefeated Class B team in the peninsula by soundly trouncing Stambaugh, 44-0. It was Stambaugh's first loss.

Kingsford Plivvs, whose only loss was to Iron River, 13-0, vaulted from fifth to a second place tie this week as they nosed Escanaba, 19-18, while the Sault Ste. Marie Menominee Maroons edged Iron Mountain, 7-0, and moved up to third place, while Stambaugh, second a week ago, skidded to fourth place with the loss to Iron River. Stambaugh (4-1) and Kingsford (4-1) will meet in one of the top games of the week Friday at Kingsford.

Wakefield, third last week, took a nose dive. The previously undefeated Cardinals, tops in Class C, were handed a 38-14 loss by undefeated Hurley and dropped to 8th place.

Gladstone jumped from 10th to a 6th place tie with Bessemer which climbed from 9th to 6th. Houghton gained the top ten—taking 5th place by virtue of a 14-6 win over Negaunee for a season's record of 4-1.

In spite of a 25-0 loss to a formidable Green Bay Central team, Escanaba Catholic Central climbed a notch in the standings, taking over seventh.

Manistique Eyes Tough Grid Test

MANISTIQUE — Their toughest game of the season faces the Manistique Emeralds Friday night when they clash at Sault Ste. Marie in a Great Lakes Conference game with the undefeated Soo Blue Devils.

The Emeralds were turned back 20-7 at Munising last week, and to date have a record of three wins against an equal number of losses. The squad was "a poor ball team" at Munising, Bonifas said, noting that tackling was off, blocking was not aggressive and the pass defense was dreaming.

The Soo Blue Devils rate as a three touchdown favorite over the Emeralds, Bonifas pointed out. But he added that the Emeralds showed a "lot of hustle and spark" this week, after taking Monday off to recover from mistakes at Munising.

Stress Pass Defense
Pass defense has been receiving extra attention this week, because the Blue Devils are strong here, Bonifas explained. The squad is in good shape, he said, with exception of Herb Calhoun, regular left offensive guard who is lost for the season due to a fractured jaw. However, the strength of the team is more near to normal with the return of Phillip Olson to the Emerald lineup, the coach pointed out.

Because of poor performances in several departments of play at Munising, a number of variations can be expected in the starting lineup, Bonifas stated. Bill Holm, Don Anderson and Harold Pawley this week have been spending extra time on blocking, the coach said, and Bob Rangnette, Phillip Olson and Jack Rogers have come forward as strong competitors for the left guard slot vacated by Calhoun.

Jack Swartstrom, sophomore back, looked good in the fullback slot Tuesday night and showed effective blocking, the coach reports. And a junior end, Larry Larson, has been doing good work opening holes in the line from right end, he added.

Pile Up First Downs
In only one game this year have the Emeralds failed to outplay their opponents on the first downs, according to Bonifas. Negaunee tied them for nine first downs, whereas in all other games the Emeralds racked up more first downs than their challengers.

Members of the squad also feel they have a much better team than the record shows, the coach stated, and have every intention of going to the Soo for a victory.

The Blue Devils have been defeated this year only by the Canadian Soo, 19-13, in a non-conference game. Soo took a 20-7 victory over Munising, the team which beat Manistique 20-7.

The game Friday begins at 7:45 p. m. Frank Ross and team of Alpena will officiate.

Johnson Holds Off Naming Kansas City Team Manager

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK — Arnold Johnson is going to defer naming a general manager and field manager for his new Kansas City Athletics until he officially gains possession of the franchise.

The formal shift in ownership from the Mack family to the Chicago financier is supposed to take place sometime before 10:30 a. m. Monday. The deadline was set by the American League owners Tuesday when they approved the move from Philadelphia to Kansas City.

In Washington, Calvin Griffith, vice president of the Senators, claimed the franchise shift was still not official. Discussing the Chicago meeting, Griffith said:

"A vote was taken, but the Washington club and others do not consider it final. Any announcement that we favored Kansas City is full of misunderstandings."

Griffith said the Washington, Boston and Detroit votes are enough to stop the move "and that may still be done."

In Chicago, league president Will Harridge said he was confident that Roy Mack will go through with his pledge to sell his Philadelphia Athletics' stock to Johnson for $3,375,000.

"He (Roy Mack) asked me to get approval of the league for transfer of the franchise to Kansas City so that he could sell out to Johnson," Harridge said. "He requested the delay in order to talk it over with his family."

"His decision in the matter was recorded in the minutes of the meeting and I do not believe Roy will go back on his word."

Didn't Want To Sell
"Roy did not want to sell. He wanted to keep the club so that he could turn it over to his son, Connie Mack III."

"I convinced him that it was in his best interests to sell for two reasons: First, by the time his son was ready to take over the club there might not be anything left of it."

Johnson flew to New York from his Chicago home Wednesday night with two other executives of the Automatic Canteen Co. of America, of which he is vice chairman.

In discussing the club, he said his first move is to get work started on doubledecking Blues Stadium in Kansas City.

"Then I need a general manager and a field manager. In deference to the Macks I won't do anything about these jobs until after Monday. I have not offered the field manager's job to anyone yet."

APPROVE ATHLETICS MOVE—Arnold Johnson, center, a Chicago realtor, who has offered $3,375,000 for the purchase of the Philadelphia Athletics, confers with Roy Mack, Athletics owner and his brother, Earl, in Chicago. The American League authorized a move of the Athletics to Kansas City. However, the decision to sell the club is left up to Roy and Earl who own 52 percent of the team's stock. (NEA Telephoto)

Big Ten Becomes More Air Minded This Year

CHICAGO — The Big Ten is becoming more air-minded than last year, according to conference statistics today that show two quarterbacks taking the lead in total offense.

Indiana's Florian Helinski is No. 1 after gaining 265 yards in two games, 237 by passing and 28 by running.

Dave Leggett of Ohio State is next with 245 yards, 167 of them through the air.

Michigan State's Earl Morrall in three league games has netted 202 yards. He has made 232 by passing and a minus 30 rushing. Morrall's No. 1 ranking among passers appears in jeopardy, however. In only one conference game, Jim Miller of Wisconsin has a completion average of .875 on 7 out of 8 hits for 69 yards.

Top Scorer

Bobby Watkins of Ohio State, who tops scorers with four touchdowns in his two league contests, also ranks as the leading ground gainer with 161 yards. But another Wisconsin star, fullback Alan Ameche, is off to a fast start to catch Watkins after blasting 127 yards in his single conference game.

Minnesota's Bob McNamara, reeled off 120 yards in his opening game.

Illinois' J. C. Caroline, who displaced Ameche as the record rushing leader last year, has 81 yards to his credit in the Illini's only league contest to date.

Top pass-catcher is Jim Hinesly of Michigan State, a reserve at the start of the season. He has 9 catches for 164 yards in his last two games. His teammate, John Matscock, leads in punt returns with an average of 26 yards in four runbacks.

Top Punter

Northwestern's Jim Troglia took the lead in punting with an average of 47.6 yards.

Ohio State is No. 1 in team offense with these averages for two games: 34 points in scoring, and a running and passing gain of 369.5, including 254.5 on the ground and 115 in the air. The Buckeyes have averaged 5.77 yards per play.

Minnesota's split-T Gophers have made a big start for statistical honors. Against Northwestern, their only league foe thus far, they gained 364 yards—330 by rushing—and averaged 7.13 per running play.

Musial Misses Bat Crown But Takes Home Top Fielding Mark

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ

NEW YORK — Stan Musial, renowned for his hitting prowess, failed in quest of his seventh batting crown this year. Instead, he achieved the best fielding average among National League outfielders for the second time in his career.

The St. Louis Cardinal ace finished with a .990 mark on only three errors in 287 chances. In 1949 Musial, who occasionally has seen service at first base, led the outfielders defensively with .991.

Fielding figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed that the Cards in the National League and the Chicago White Sox and Washington Senators in the American League placed two players each among the leaders. In order to be eligible, a player must have appeared in at least 100 games.

Rookie Top Catcher

The other Cardinal to top his position afield was catcher Bill Sarni. Rookie Sarni recorded a .996 mark behind the plate.

In the American League, Chicago's Nelson Fox and Chico Carrasquel comprised the keystone combination. Fox, in setting the pace at second base for the second time in his career, fielded .988. Carrasquel repeated his 1953 superiority at shortstop with a .974 mark. It is the third time he has led.

Washington's Mickey Vernon, edged Joe Collins of the New York Yankees at first base .9924 to .9915. Vernon has been tops at his position three times and has been tied for the lead once. Eddie Yost of Washington displayed his fielding by Michigan. The newspapers said so.

Saturday, Michigan travels to Evanston, Ill., to face Northwestern, a team which was manhandled by Minnesota last week.

What will the newspapers say?

Lad Slingerland of the Lansing State Journal may have been guessing, or he may not, in an article he wrote, before the Michigan-Iowa game. But he said:

"A crowd is expected to watch the struggle with hopes that the Wolverines can rebound to the extent of slipping by the Hawkeyes as they did last year by a single point, 14-13."

Northwestern first met Michigan in 1892, defeating the Wolverines, 10-8. But since then, Michigan has controlled the situation, winning 18, losing eight and tying two.

The Wildcat's last victory was in 1951, beating Michigan 6-0.

Frying Chickens Weekend Special

(By The Associated Press)

Been eating a lot of chicken lately? It's still a good idea, if you're watching your food budget.

For once again, frying chickens will be the most popular weekend special in the food stores of the nation. Reductions of from 2 to 4 cents a pound are being planned by the men who set the price tags.

In second place as a favorite is pot roast. Meat men agree that it's the best buy in beef. Steaks and prime ribs are on the expensive side this week, although some stores will trim prices for week-end advertising pages.

Fryers aren't the only good buy in fowl. Stewing chickens are on the bargain counter, and specialists say turkeys are worth consideration. Some stores will feature large-size turkeys this weekend.

By careful shopping, you may find good values in pork. One major chain plans reductions of 8 to 10 cents a pound on center cut pork chops in some of its stores. Others will feature pork loin. Smoked ham will be offered at lower prices by selected stores.

Lamb prices will be much the same as last weekend, with reductions here and there. Veal chops will be lower in some cities, and there will be scattered specials on veal for roasting.

Egg prices are still depressed. Further price cuts this week will drop prices from 2 to 6 cents a dozen in some stores.

Vegetables are tending to rise in price as nearby growing seasons draw to a close in most sections of the country.

Among vegetables going higher at wholesale this week were cucumbers, eggplant, beans, lettuce, tomatoes and summer-type squash.

Apples are a good fruit buy, and grapefruit is the best buy in the citrus line. Grapes are higher.

Child Hospital Has Toy Library

OMAHA (P)—Children's Memorial Hospital has a toy library for its young patients. When the collection of toys donated to the hospital outgrew the cupboards where it was kept, a specially equipped room was set aside.

Volunteer women distribute them. Biggest rush at the toy library comes at 3 p. m. when visiting parents leave and the job of diverting homesick youngsters starts.

Heart Put Back In Baby's Body

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Wiley Lawrence Chester, 4 weeks old, is home from the hospital with his heart back inside his body.

And the only thing he has to show for the operation, performed three hours after birth, is a small scar on the chest.

Wiley was brought here from Jeffersonville, Ind., just across the Ohio River, when doctors discovered he had one of the rarest of abnormalities at birth.

The heart, half inside and half outside the body, was enclosed in two fine gelatin-like membranes. The breast bone was only partly formed and several ribs, instead of joining the breast bone at the front, joined each other across the chest.

"In 8 or 10 hours, the membranes around the heart would have become like old parchment," said the surgeon who performed the operation. "By that time, it probably would have been too late."

He declined to be identified but said that during the one hour in surgery, the heart was forced back into its cavity while the lungs, which had filled the cavity, were pushed aside to make room.

Wiley's mother, Mrs. Palmer Chester says her new son is "doing just fine. He's gained over a pound since birth."

Struck By Train, Shoe Is Damaged

SHELTON, Neb. (AP)—Engineer John Hillebrandt, peering into the darkness from the cab of his engine, saw a man on the track ahead and then a body flying past.

Hillebrandt stopped the train and with the help of some 100 passengers searched futilely for the body for half an hour.

The mystery was cleared up the next morning when Marcelino Aguilar told of his scrape with the train. The accident had cost him a damaged shoe and a good scare. He said the train struck him, but he fled when he found himself unhurt.

Navy Tests Boats With Plastic Hulls

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP)—Navy experts believe ships with plastic hulls may be used as mine-sweepers, just as effective and probably less expensive than the all-wood sweepers now in operation. It has been contracted for construction here of a 57-foot all-plastic ship.

Except for small aluminum joints and two nonmagnetic 4,000-horsepower engines the ship will be entirely of plastic.

Its designers hope it will be able to sail through mine-infested waters, without setting off the deadly magnetic devices which sank or damaged many ships in World War II.

Expressway Planned

LANSING (AP)—Construction on the first project on the proposed Grand Rapids expressway may start before winter, the State Highway Department said today. It announced that bids on the initial project—a $272,000 grade separation carrying 28th Street over Century Avenue—will be opened Oct. 27.

Sugar In Present Form Relatively New Product

WASHINGTON—Sugar, one of man's basic foods, made big news twice within the last year: Scientists learned how to duplicate it, and the world agreed on how to trade it.

Yet so commonplace is sugar that even such headlines are largely lost. A natural bounty known and sought for thousands of years, it has been grown and produced in present form only in comparatively recent times. Now sugar ranks as the most abundant pure chemical compound that man takes from nature, the National Geographic Society says.

Sugar is essential to life on earth. Every green leaf touched by sunlight performs the miracle of turning water from the ground and carbon dioxide from the air into sugar and oxygen. Any animal without sugar in its blood would shortly drop dead.

"Honey-bearing Reed" Honey, fruits, and succulent grasses satisfied the ancients' sweet tooth. The origin of sugar cane is lost in the past, somewhere in the Orient. Probably it was first grown by man in India, where ancient legends and then the army of Alexander the Great in 327 B. C. spoke of the "honey-bearing reed."

A thousand years were to pass, however, before the knowledge and cultivation of cane sugar were spread by conquering Arabs across the Near East and North Africa to Spain and Portugal.

Sugar was a delicacy only for the wealthy, even when Columbus took the sweet grass to Hispaniola on his second voyage in 1493. He brought back cacao beans. Thus, in exchange for chocolate, the Old World gave sugar to the New.

Barbados became the world's sugar capital during the 1500's and 1600's. Homeward-bound treasure galleons carried sugar as well as silver and gold. Not until 1751 was sugar cane successfully introduced into Louisiana. And it was even later, during the Napoleonic wars, that a Frenchman named Benjamin Delessert first made crystallized sugar from the silvery, wedge-shaped vegetable called the sugar beet.

Today the world produces nearly 40,000,000 tons of sugar in a year, 65 per cent from cane and 35 per cent from sugar beets. Americans alone consume over 8,000,000 tons. For 30-odd years, per capita consumption in this country has remained nearly constant, averaging a hundred-pound bag per person per year.

Sugar: Wonder Chemical Sugar not only is eaten—as crystal, powder, liquid, or sweetening in endless recipes—but today ranks also as a vital industrial raw material. From it are made explosives and plastics, shoe polishes and vitamins, synthetic rubber and waterproofing for high silk hats.

Only in late 1953, however, after centuries of trying, did science succeed in making sugar in the laboratory from simpler compounds. There was ample proof—on paper—that it couldn't be done. Two Canadian chemists, Dr. Raymond Lefieux and Dr. George Huber, threw away the proof and performed the feat, which has been likened to the climbing of Mount Everest.

Another sugar milestone came this year as 40 countries put into effect an international agreement stabilizing sugar production and world prices. For strangely enough except in time of war, the world suffers from an oversupply of the clean, white, inexpensive crystals that are pure food energy.

Baby Sisters Perish In Rural Home Fire North Of Bay City

BAY CITY (AP)—Two young sisters perished in a fire at their home on US23 nine miles north of Bay City.

The victims, Karen Marie Nelson, 3½, and her 18-month-old sister, Linda, were trapped as they slept in their second story bedroom.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Nelson, and three other children escaped by jumping to the ground from the second floor.

Nelson said he was awakened by the smell of smoke about 8:45 a.m. He leaped with his son James, 4, from the porch roof. Mrs. Nelson escaped with George, 6, and Deborah, three months. All were unhurt.

"PERCENTAGE" PLAY
An interesting question of "percentage" was involved in the play of the following hand.

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

♠ 9 7 6 4	♥ A 9 4	♦ 8 5 2	♣ 7 4 3
♠ 8	♥ J 6 5 3	♦ K 9 7	♣ J 10 9
♠ 5 3 2	♥ 10 8 7	♦ J 6 4	♣ 3
♠ 4	♥ 3	♦ K 8 2	♣ A K Q J 10
♠ K Q 2	♥ A Q 10	♦ A Q	♣ A Q

The bidding:
South West North East
2♠ Pass 3♠ Pass
4NT Pass 5NT Pass
6♠ Pass 6♠ Pass

West opened the jack of clubs, which took immediate care of that suit for declarer. The latter drew three rounds of trumps, cashed the king and queen of hearts, then led to the heart ace and returned a diamond. Obviously, ly, the fate of the contract now rested squarely on the card South elected to play, and with nothing to go by, South finally decided to put in the queen. West won and exited with a club, and since South could not get back to dummy for another finesse, he had to concede the setting trick to East's jack of diamonds.

South's play of the diamond queen instead of the ten was simply an unfortunate guess, but a different type of play—which also might involve a guess—had more in its favor. Consider:

After drawing the three rounds of trumps, South should cash his second club trick and his top hearts, then go to the heart ace and ruff away dummy's last club. Now, with the North-South hands stripped, he should lead the queen or ten of diamonds.

It is true that this line could fail. If South led the diamond ten, he might lose to the jack in East's hand, and a diamond return might go up to the king in West's hand; or if South guessed to lead the diamond queen, the situation might be reversed. But while observing these possibilities, one should also observe that the line wins against several conditions. If West has both of the missing diamond honors, he is end-played, and the same applies to East, i. e. after he takes the first diamond trick, he must return a diamond from his other honor, giving South a winning finesse. In addition, this line of play wins against divided honors if South is lucky enough to make the right guess—leading the queen if the king is on his left; the ten if the jack is there.
